Lowest Rate of Fatalities

Air Travel Proved Safest Transportation

Commercial air lines of North America proved almost twice as safe as other forms of transportation during 1946, having had only 1.2 fatalities for 100,000 passenger miles flown, F. J. Robinson, Toronto, Canadian traffic manager for American Airlines, said here Tuesday.

The air lines were improved on their record for the previous year when there were 2.4 fatalities for the same number of passenger miles flown, he said.

Statistics on automotive and trolley fatalities for the years 1942-46 inclusive, disclosed 28 fatalities, he said.

Generally speaking the record of the airlines means that one passenger only was killed for every 100,000 passenger miles flown, which in turn means 5,000 flights around the world at the equator.

OR IT MEANS only one killed for 40,000 trans-continental flights.

Last year the airlines of North America carried nearly 14,000,000 persons with 13 fatalities.

Mr. Robinson, who has been with American Airlines for 14 years, said that his company has made 14,000 trans-Atlantic flights in the last three years.

At New York's LaGuardia field alone, 13,500 trans-Atlantic passengers departed or arrived in American Airlines planes in the month of December.

Advocates Support For UNESCO Group

Candidate must be prepared to support the United Nations organization and its subsidiary Educational, Scientific and Cultural organization in deed, as well as in word.

There has not been a single common scheduled plane lost on the Atlantic in recent years, although some military transports have gone missing, Mr. Robinson said.

THE MEETING, held at the Marlborough hotel, was one of the largest meetings this year, Dr. McNally who has just recently returned from a UNESCO conference in Paris, gave highlights of his trip, and urged support for the organization.

He traced the set-up of the Canadian delegation to the conference, and the progress of the sessions and of his own personal experience while in Paris, and in visiting Scotland.

"IF THERE EVER was a time in the history of the world when men of good will are needed, it is now," he said.

"The United Nations Organization and its subsidiary, UNESCO, is the best means we have of preventing another war," he said.

He stressed the importance of inter-relationship of education, science and cultural interests among the nations, so that ignorance, distrust and suspicion of one nation to another may be done away with.

"Canada's share for one year, in support of UNESCO will not be what Canada paid for one day of war, but that support must be assured. If it is, principles are to be effective and its objectives obtained," he said.

Mr. W. Henry, club president, was chairman. Dr. F. S. McGill introduced the speaker and R. S. Chapman thanked him.

School Boards Favor New Research Service

Edmonton school boards, both public and separate, have agreed to support establishment of a school information and research service for all of Canada, Dr. Charles E. Phillips, Toronto, executive-secretary for the Canadian Education Association since 1945, said here Tuesday.

Dr. PHILLIPS, a former high school teacher and professor of education, co-author of a history textbook, is in Edmonton for conferences with provincial education department and municipal school officials.

He plans to meet with Hon. R. Earl Anley, Alberta minister of education and Dr. W. H. Swift, deputy minister, and the heads of municipal boards and trustee associations, discuss the new research bureau that he hopes to have in full operation by next July.

The bureau service will cost about $10,000 per year. IT IS PROPOSED to finance it through municipal boards contributing yearly 50 cents per classroom.

"The research service would provide information on request regarding building costs, rural school transportation problems, and the like with statistics gathered from all sections of the Dominion," Dr. Phillips said.

The west is in the main most cooperative toward the plan. The service will be located in Toronto and at the start there will be one man in charge with two assistants.

Shortage of qualified teachers in all of Canada now totals about 7,000 and educationalists are not quite holding their own in the fight to maintain the teacher supply. Dr. Phillips said that unless there is an improvement the shortage will have grown to 8,000 three years hence.

THE SITUATION in Alberta is about as bad as in any part of the country, although minimum salaries are so lower here, he said.

"I think there is some assurance of better-paying jobs as teachers remain in their profession. It is not altogether a case of raising minimum salaries," he added.

UNIT TO PARADE The reserve battalion, The Loyal Edmonton Regiment, will parade at 8 p.m. at the Prince of Wales Armoury on Thursday.

BEN SWANKE, provincial head of the Labor Progressive party, stated in his address that today's university students will graduate into a world of depression unless controls are maintained. He alleged that unless power of the monopolists is controlled, and Canada's production machinery used for the good of all, depression and war will result.
